Showing Your Breyer® Models in Halter and Performance!

You can earn ribbons and awards just like a real horse show!

Visit www.BreyerHorses.com to find model horse shows around the country, including those held at BreyerFest®. Halter classes are judged on how appropriate the model is to the class. For example, Secretariat would be appropriate for a Thoroughbred class, a Stallion class and a Chestnut color class. The judge would look for appropriate conformation, a nicely shaded coat, straight legs and no scratches or rubs anywhere.

Performance classes test your knowledge of the discipline. Cedric the show jumper would need to be tacked in an appropriate English saddle and bridle, and be placed a proper distance from the jump so that it looks like he could really clear it. If too close, he might knock a rail over! For Western events, some details you'll need to know include when a second cinch is acceptable and when it's not. Good performance entries look like the real sport in action—as if captured in a photograph. It's challenging but fun! Whether a novice or veteran shower, there are shows for both so give it a try!

Building Your Collection

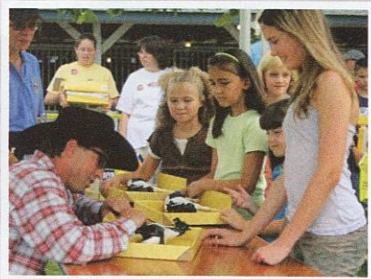

Collecting Breyer® models can be fun and exciting!

Choose to collect Traditional®, Classics®, Stablemates® or a combination of them! You can collect new releases and limited editions, as well as the famous horses we've made models of.

At BreyerFest® and other events, you can even get your models autographed by the owner and rider for a personalized keepsake!

Some hobbyists have favorite sculptures and collect all the colors on that one mold, such as the Andalusian stallion. It can be fun to build a large collection by shopping at yard sales, flea markets and ebay! The surprise discovery of a special model from Breyer's early days is a thrilling part of collecting!

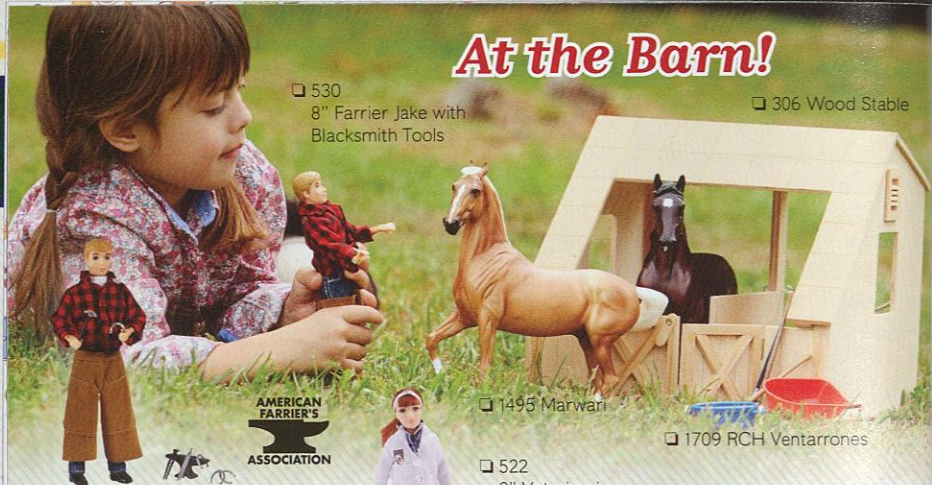

Because all Breyer models are hand-painted, there are subtle variations in each horse's shading, color and detailing that can make them even more special for your collection. You can assign names and pedigrees to each of your models and keep a record of them just like real stable management. Some model horse shows have Collector's Classes, where ribbons are awarded to top collections! Enjoy buying, selling and trading with other collectors and most of all, have fun!

Customizing Your Breyer® Models

All you need is a Breyer model, acrylic paints and your imagination!

Is your dream horse a golden palomino or a spotted appaloosa? Is she a strawberry roan or a stunning dapple grey? All of these colors are possible with the paints and full color instructions in our painting kits. Each kit includes white, black, yellow ochre, burnt umber and burnt sienna so that the rainbow of horse colors is possible! Acrylics are water soluble, so clean up is easy too.

You can also add Mohair Manes and Tails and Horseshoes for an even more realistic effect!

What's In a Name?

You've just brought home the newest addition to your stable! Now the big question: what will his or her name be?

Some names are inspired by color, and a black horse could have words such as ebony, raven, ink, shadow, night or jet in his name. Use a thesaurus to find uncommon words: breeze, zephyr and sirocco mean different types of "wind." An Arabian filly might be named after her mother: "Bint (daughter of) Sahara." An Indian pony might carry the tribe's name: Cherokee, Cheyenne, Sioux or Lakota. A mustang might reflect his wild surroundings and Spanish ancestry: Sagebrush, Thunderbolt, Rojo (red), Blanco (white). Ponies sometimes have fun food names such as Milkshake, Oreo or Pop Tart. The possibilities are endless! Keep a list of names you like and soon it will be easy to find the perfect name!
